Have you hung up all of those new calendars yet?

Starting tomorrow you will have to learn to write it 1938.

We don't know what the new year holds for us but we do know it will be what we make it, to a great extent. I believe that if we work hard, are alert and anxious to serve to the best of our ability, we will achieve success in our efforts to progress.

The happy holiday season draws to a close. After tonight's New Year's Eve celebration all of us will settle down to work again. I sincerely hope that the new year 1938 will bring each and every one of us the very best of everything.

I suppose that by this time you have made all of your Christmas exchanges. Isn't it funny how much money will ask you your shirt size and then you go and buy one a size or two smaller. Or maybe the sleeves will be a couple of inches too short. But it's a lot of fun and the war that prevails when a group is exchanging in Christmas presents is just as much fun. Everybody has a smile which all the faces. It's "gee, I just love it," whether you do or not.

Christmas passed off quietly in Glades towns. Quiet family celebrations. Business houses closed. A fire popper now and then. Students and friends visited relatives and friends. The New Year's Eve dance at the Legion pavilion and night will mark the close of another holiday season on the shore of Lake Okechobee. Then, it's back to planting and raising beans and other green vegetables to feed those folks on the salt country.

I am sure that you will all be glad to see that good racing night. I served some of a picker when it came to selecting the winner in a dog race. I have a couple of friends who are something about the cat race. They are something about the cat race.

It has been months since I've said anything about fishing. The other night in Pahokee I saw four or five fellows come in with a couple of black bass. One of them I say string—I mean it was something to write home about. There were a couple of black bass and three boys were real sportsmen and they took the little ones. Any time you think 48 big black bass are something from a pond, you go out to four or five ponds—don't make a nice string of fish—well—

I am delighted with the response coming from the civic organizations in regard to organizing a band in the Glades area. The Pahokee Women's club was first to pledge $100 and this organization was followed in a day or two by the Pahokee Rotary club with the same amount. These civic groups are going to be heard from in due time. Officials of the band committee are going to hold a meeting next Friday night in the office of Lawrence E. Will in Belle Glade at which time all the groups will make reports. As I've said before—organizing a band is a hard job and is going to take plenty of time and effort—as well as money. But, it will be worth it. It will be worth it.

Over Nine Million Wiped From Debt of County In 5 Years

Systematic Reduction Of Indebtedness Being Made

Palm Beach County, in the remarkably short span of five years, has reduced its bonded debt by a vast amount of $9,877,109.

Like the Chinese, who attempt to pay all debts by New Year's Day, this county has steadily progressed in the systematic reduction of its indebtedness.

After all deductions are taken into account, the result shows an annual reduction of $1,014,825—more than a million dollars each year since 1932.

This outstanding achievement was made possible by the systematic reduction of its indebtedness. The net reduction is therefore $9,877,109. This shows an average annual reduction during the period of $1,975,424, out of which should be considered the debt settlement reduction of $1,014,825.

In 1932 Palm Beach county ad valorem tax bonds outstanding were as follows:

General bonds $5,800,000
School bonds 2,892,000
Special district bonds 1,175,000
Municipal bonds 2,604,386

Total $12,471,386

In 1937, the bond picture has changed to this:

General bonds $5,296,000
School bonds 2,418,000
Special district bonds 3,471,000
Municipal bonds 10,613,182

Total $21,788,182

The decrease, since 1932, is therefore $9,877,109.

During this period, $733,000 new bonds were issued by Palm Beach county units—Palm Beach Post.

Beans Back in Lead In Shipments From Glades Past Week

18 Cars Beans With 13 Cars of Potatoes Go North

Green snap beans took their proper place in the shipments from the Lake Okechobee region during the past week. Reports printed in this newspaper last week showed that potatoes were in the lead by several carloads. However, this last report shows that beans went back into the lead with 18 cars going north. Potatoes followed with a close second with 13 cars going out. Seven cars of peas, five cars of mixed beans and two cars of radishes made up the week's total of 45 cars.

When queried yesterday Pahokee and Belle Glade growers said that fancy beans were selling around the $2.00 mark. Shipments will increase daily, they say, as the storage of the beans in the warehouse. Potatoes, most of which have been shipped from the Belle Glade area, have been selling around $1.20 to $1.35 per bushel. The yield this year is good and the quality of the tubers is excellent. Florida crops will come off at the same time in the spring. An investigation, made among growers and shippers this week, revealed that no such percentage has been planted to cabbage. Much of the land was replanted in beans and radishes. Several hundred acres, however, were planted to cabbage.

POOR MR. HODGES (J. B.)
Dedola last week joined the ranks of those counties, which have adopted resolutions requesting that Chairman J. B. Hodges of Lake City resign his job as chairman of the State Democratic committee, because of his statement in a New York paper a few weeks ago in which he intimated that the present national administration was not so hot.

Those Florida politicians who deem it their duty to keep the state in political alignment with the national Democratic administration, no matter where the administration may lead, have whetted their knives and are going after the scalp of poor Mr. Hodges, and they will no doubt lift it in due time.

Mr. Hodges has not been quoted as saying anything about the demand that he resign, although he no doubt has opinions on the matter. Perhaps he feels that he has said enough already—and maybe he feels he has said too much. However, in his position of things that are as he appeared to make no mental reservations.

We have no desire to discuss the merits of this case. We would be at somewhat of a loss whether to try to commend his courage or condemn his judgment. We hold no brief for Mr. Hodges, but our sympathy naturally goes out to one who is being ganged up on.

Not only is he the subject of a state-wide attack for his criticism of the administration, but he suffers the further embarrassment of being mistaken for Senator W. C. "Wild Bill" Hodges of Tallahassee. And that's enough to entitle anybody to sympathy, be he right or wrong.—The Arcadian.

COURT VALUES MOTHER LOVE
The human side of the courts usually is befogged with the issues and the technicalities of the law.

There are frequent occasions, however, when decisions are handed down that lift the court from the drab and material to a plane of pure humanity where the findings are subject to the regulations of the heart.

An instance recently was the award of a child to a mother of moderate means, although the child had been well cared for over a long period by better circumstanced relatives of the father, by the Supreme Court of Florida.

Acknowledging the attention, affection and care bestowed upon the child by the father's kin, the court delivered itself of a tribute to mother love that does honor to the heart as well as the heads of the jurists.

"Material things of life are important," said the court, "but far less important than the natural love, affection and care that a mother can give to her child."

Whatever the law is in the case, and the arguments, deduced to keep the child from its mother, the court took the human side—a side backed by the experience of the ages, which transcends the bourgeois of man-made legal lore and it is in itself the law as it springs from nature itself.—Miami Herald.

TELL US THE TRUTH OF IT
The Times earnestly hope that all the talk about the possibility of Florida not getting the Everglades National Park is merely "scare talk" to push the laggard responsible for the slow work of acquiring enough land to satisfy the national government.

The Times also hopes that the men and women who have worked so long, and so faithfully, for the creation of the park will get together and demand such action as can be given under the present laws, and with the present amount of money, authorized by the 1937 legislature.

It is said that the state already has offered to give to the park officials to induce the federal government to start work there. It is said that if there were enthusiasm for the creation of the park in Tallahassee, it would be only a short time until CCC camps would be established in the park, and the government spending money for development work.—Melbourne Times.

Too LATE TO CLASSIFY

By Russell Kay.

'Twas the night after Christmas, and boy what a house!
I felt like the devil, and so did the spouse.
The egg-nog and turkey and candy were awell,
But ten hours later it sure gave me hell.

The stockings weren't hung by the chimney with care—
The darn things were sprawled on the back of a chair.
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
But I had a large cake of ice on my head.

And when I finally dozed off in a nap
The ice woke me up when it fell in my lap.
Then for some unknown reason, I wanted a drink,
So I started in feeling my way to the sink.

I got along fine 'till I stepped on the cat;
I don't recall just what occurred after that.
When I came to the house was all flooded with light,
Although under the table I was high as a kite.

While visions of sugar plums danced in my head
I somehow got up and then back into bed.
Then what to my wandering mind should appear
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer.

Then the sleigh seemed to change to a red fire truck,
And each reindeer turned into a bleery-eyed buck;
I knew in a moment it must be Old Nick,
I tried to cry out but my tongue was too thick.

Then the old devil whistled and shouldered with glee
While the books pawed the earth and looked daggers at me,
Then he called them by name and the names made me shudder.
When I heard them I felt like a ship minus rudder.

'Now Egg-Nog! Biscuits! Four Roses! and Brandy!
New Fruit Cakes! Cold Turkey! Gin Becks! and Candy!

To the top of his dome, to the top of his skull,
Now whack away, crack away, with thumps that are dull!"
And then in a twinkling I felt on my roof
The prancing and pawing of each cloven hoof.

How long this went on I'm sure I can't say.
Tho' it seemed an eternity, plus a long day.
But finally the night after Christmas had passed
And I found I could really think straight at last.

So I thought of the New Year a few days away,
And I've made me a vow that no tempter can sway.
I'm sticking to water, don't even want ice,
For there's nothing as tasty or nothing as nice.

The night after New Year may bother some guys,
But I've learned my lesson, and brother, I'm wise.
You can have your rich victuals and liquor that's red,
But what goes to my stomach won't go to my head.

So a big Happy New Year to you and to all,
I'm back on the wagon, and hope I don't fall!

Vehicle Owners In Response To Plea Purchase New Tags

Teachers Received Their Salary Checks Before Christmas

TALLAHASSEE, Dec. 30.—(FNS)—Generally responding to the appeal made by Governor Clegg and State Superintendent Clegg, English, motor vehicle owners of the state by the early purchase of license tags enabled D. W. Finley, motor vehicle commissioner, to turn $550,000 in to the school fund, making it possible for all school teachers to receive their salary checks before Christmas.

A payment of $175,000 on December 20, and $50,000 on December 22, brought the total payments to that date up to the $550,000 and exceeded by more than $150,000 the amount turned over to the school fund on December 18, last year. The total amount contributed by the motor vehicle department to the school fund for the month of December last year.

World's Greatest Citrus Show Aim Of Festival Group

Cornerstone For New Buildings Laid By Nathan Mayo

WINTER HAVEN, Dec. 30.—(FNS)—The first step in the 5-year plan, which backers of the Florida Orange Festival believe will establish it as the world's greatest citrus show, was definitely taken when the cornerstone of the new 1938 permanent Festival buildings was laid by Nathan Mayo, commissioner of agriculture. Other steps in the 5-year program include the maintenance of a public state park and demonstration grove; an educational institution to improve methods in citrus culture; a statewide citrus museum for the display of all fruits and by-products each day of the year; an organization for the advancement of the citrus industry; a research laboratory to develop new uses for citrus fruits; and a source of reliable information regarding all phases of the industry.

ELABORATE SET RESTORES PORT OF THE 40's

A section of the Liverpool waterfront as it appeared in the '40s lives again, and like lost glories out of a port that was, winking from the world, over are poking their noses over the dockside to watch the busy waterfront scene.

The magic was conjured out of the past as a set for Paramount's "Star at Sea," picturization of a piece of maritime history that was an international "cause celebre." The film stars Gary Cooper, George Raft, and Frances Dee at the Belle Glade theatre today and New Year's day.

The waterside you will see in the picture covers a huge dock, nine hundred feet long by two hundred and fifty feet wide, at the Los Angeles Ship Yards.

"Old" buildings of the style of a hundred years ago line narrow streets set back from the waterfront, and the dock in front of them is littered with casks, coils of rope, barrels marked for strange ports, bits of tackle and running gear, with the spindles and booms of the windjammer forming an arcade above.

The bark "Star of Finland," queen of the Alaska fishing fleet, stands there. On one side of her is the topside schooner "Lottie," re-rigged as a passenger liner; and on the other, the schooner "Lottie Bennett." Not far away is the bark "Pacific Queen," the world's old "Star of Alaska" when she belonged to the Alaska Packers' fleet with the "Finland." And just across the "River Mersey," at the next dock, modern freighters are moored incongruously.

Roland Anderson, of the Paramount art department, designed the set, and John Goodman, naval expert of the studio's art staff, supervised the re-rigging of the "Carson" and the wooden cannibalizing of the "Finland's" iron deck house.

Still another section of Liverpool was constructed for the picture, a street scene, which was built at the Paramount Ranch, just out of Hollywood. But the greater part of the film is held at sea—on a British patrol ship, a sloop, and a packet bound from Liverpool to Boston.

Berry Growers Are Now Receiving An Excellent Price

39,846 Pints of Strawberries Shipped from Plant City

PLANT CITY, Dec. 28.—Strawberry growers marketing their fruit here the day before Christmas realized close to three thousand dollars for the day's offerings and as a pre-Christmas return from their berry patches. While the total shipments out of here Christmas eve brought an approximate return of $3,258 gross to growers, some of the fruit which went out that night had been held over from the day previous. The shipments out Christmas eve totaled 12,000 pints of berries and brought the season's shipments through last week to nearly forty thousand pints.

Buyers had anticipated a relatively heavy day Friday after a light Thursday and there was a fairly heavy volume of fruit Friday. The price range in "general" was from 18 to 21 cents the pint, the bulk of the fruit, however, it was reported, bringing around 20 cents the pint. Thursday only 144 pints of berries were shipped out with an estimated average for the day of approximately 19 cents the pint.

Total shipments for the season through last week amounted to 39,846 pints for which growers have received an estimated gross return of approximately $1,877.44.

Reports vary considerably regarding the probable volume of fruit during the next few weeks. Some growers report increasing volume from their patches while others who have been picking fair yields of berries see a decline in volume as the result of the cold, the early part of the month.

The forwardings last Friday totaled enough fruit to load a car, but it is not expected that carload forwardings will be reached for several weeks. The truck movement has gotten an early start this season and a large proportion of the shipments thus far have gone out by truck. Two trucks were loaded out last Friday and 48 crates of berries went out in another truck load of mixed fruit. Berries were bringing from 12 1/2 to 18 cents a pint on the yard yesterday, mostly around 16 cents the pint.

Wilcox Brands The— (Continued from Page 1) farmer still must go to work with the crack of dawn and labor into the night six days a week and take his chances on the weather and the fluctuations of a man-made market.

"And then the measure says it shall not apply to those who are engaged in the canning or packing of fish, fruits and vegetables. It does not apply to retail merchants or their employees. It leaves out those who gin cotton but includes those who spin the cotton into thread.

"Why, if this is a good law, are these and other groups of workers left out? Why have they omitted 40,000,000 workers from the bill if it is a good thing for labor?"

"Pointing out that the bill would bring chaos because it would force workers in the wage scale of white and colored labor," he pointed out, "So long as Florida people are able to handle the matter, this delicate and perplexing problem can be adjusted, but the Federal government knows no color line and of necessity it cannot make any distinction between the races. We may rest assured that when we turn over to a Federal Bureau the power to fix wages, it will prescribe the same wages for the negro that it fixes for the white man."

"Now such a plan might work in some sections but those of us who know the true situation know that it will not work in the south. You cannot put the negro and the white man on the same basis and get away with it." He pointed out that such a thing would work hardships on the negroes themselves through causing employers to refuse to give them work.

Because of the heated opposition of Congressman Wilcox and other southern leaders, the bill was killed by a vote of 216 to 198.

Florida And Texas— (Continued from Page 1) changed the onion picture entirely and it looks like Raymondville will be shipping onions heavily by April 1 to 10 as usual. Hence it would seem to us that if behooves dealers in the north who are holding storage onions to get rid of them more rapidly than they are doing at present, as we notice daily U. S. shipments do not average over 60 to 80 cars. However with cold weather coming on, it is hoped demand for northern onions will become so strong that your storage crop will be cleaned up by April 1, so that there will be no conflict between old onions and the new Bermuda onions which usually take precedence over the old stock, which is more or less spoiling by April 1."

4-H Club Girl In Tennessee Makes And Saves Enough Money for College

All of us have read stories of farm boys and girls who made remarkable records with produce in some similar project, but it is a matter for inspiration and admiration when a farm girl with no one good source of cash income nevertheless makes enough money to send herself to college. We reprint this interesting letter from the Young People's Page of the Progressive Farmer—

"Since I joined the 4-H club seven years ago, I have been winning some money of my own, but with the need of college funds becoming more apparent, I had to find some way to supplement money won. First I began selling my products at the county fair market. At Christmas, especially, I increased my sales by 'dressing up' the products, using red transparent wrappings and holly.

"Three years ago I made a shuck hat just for a novelty, with no intention of selling it, but so many people wanted it I sold it and all the others I could make that summer. As the sale for these hats is most rushing in summer, I have used long winter nights to make a supply ready for summer sales. By this plan, I was able to devote the summer months as a canning supervisor at our school. Instead of wasting any spare minutes, I used that time to knit for other people, and I had a chance also to piece quilts crochet, and embroider articles for the home.

"Recently I have taken advantage of every chance I had to enter my own—canned goods, fresh vegetables and flowers from my garden, poultry, sewing, crochet, and embroidery—in any and every contest I heard of.

"None of these sources of income seems very much in itself, but with a little here and a little there from the six sources, I have been able to go to college one year and I am now ready to start again. Chae Anne Yates, Shelby County, Tenn."
